

Council of Theological Students

- Our world is a global place – our world is a local place – all at the same time.
- The concept of remote is vanishing before our eyes.
- As seminarians we have a sacred opportunity to reflect theologically as an intentional community on God's mission.
- We are a priesthood of believers, scattered and sown across the country. We are called to love our neighbors – when All are whole; we will be whole.
- We are committed and sent to share the Good News of peace and justice as acts of faith for all people.
- We are here to build liberating partnerships through changing our language of mission. Listen for our voices ...
